Artist | Educator

Since finishing my Art practice in the Community with Education degree I have had a diverse career in the arts and education sector in many locations throughout the UK. In this time I have been employed by the private sector, comprehensive secondary schools, primary schools, a prison, day care centres and a care home as a qualified teacher. I have worked with people aged 2–80+ from diverse cultural and social backgrounds and with varying educational and therapeutic needs.

With a massive squeeze on the creative curriculum within schools and ironically the creative industries growing rapidly as a market, I want to give young people the opportunity they need to succeed.

My own practice is varied, and often involves mixed media as well as 3 dimensional work. I am interested in using a variety of media where the end result looks layered and rich with colour, texture and form.
